

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A user can designate a track for program reservation of a Carousel player capable of loading both a CD and DVD-Audio, smoothly irrespective of the type of a disk. It is first checked whether a track corresponding to the disk number entered by a user is a track of CD or DVD-Audio. If the track is a track of a CD, after the disk number input, the user is immediately requested to enter a track number, whereas if the track is a track of a DVD-Audio, the user is requested to enter a group number and then the user is requested to enter a track number.
